LEONARD AMBITIOUS TO BECOME TRIPLE TITLE HOLDER

Leonard's Bout With Britton Will Be the Opening of His Campaign to Become a Three-Time Champion.

Ourseless, 1817 to The Pens Pinnerra Co. BENNY LEONARD IS matched to The weight is to be 129 pounds ringside. That is, Britton has agreed to make 150 pounds. Leonard car. make 139 pounds so easily that he will surely be well under the required

This marks the beginning of Benny, Leonard's campaign to become a three-time champion. Henny's ambition is to gather the welterweight and the middleweight titles and add them to the world's lightweight title that he already holds. Judging by the knockout form Leonard has shown in recent fights, this ambition of his is not as bisarre as one might think, considering the men he will have to fight. Ted Lewis, present wellerweight champion, gave Mike Gibbons, our best middleweight, a very hard ten-round fight. There is little to choose between Lewis and Britton, for they have fought many times, and Britton has won his share of the decisions. Lewis is champion at Bresent merely because he was winner of their last bout, on the official decision of the referee. The bout before that was won by Reitton bout before that was won by Britton.

MeFarland gave Gibbons a hard ten-round fight. He had very little the worst of it, the main difference being that his blows were taps, while Gibbons's punches were driven in. Gibbons was badly weakened by the weight he had to make for McFarland. Fighting for the middleweight with Leonard. But Leonard is twice as hard a hitter as McFarland, is fully as strong, and is faster than Gibbons. Mike has had more trouble with the smaller and faster men than with the big middleweights and the light heavyweights.

Taking all these arguments into consideration, it seems that Benny Leonard and his manager have some reason to think Benny may be able to gather three titles. At least he has a right to try.

The HESON told me another story about his champion.

Ritchle got up, and for two rounds after that he gave Benny a lacing. Then Benny him on the ropes and finished him. After the fight Benny went into Mitchell's dressing room. Mitchell felt very blue over the knockout.

Two Jockeys Arouse Ire Of Aqueduct Race Goers And Good Things Go Wrong

McTaggart and Williams Lose on Favorites Through Bad Rides.

By Vincent Treanor. WO jockeys furnished the chief topic of conversation on the trains home from Aqueduct resterday. Johnny McTaggart came in for a "panning" for the handling of the favorite Corn Tassel in the Prospect Handicap, in which he ran second to Manister Tol, and J. Williams was spoken of in harsher terms for his ride on Orderly, the odds-on choice in the fifth race. McTaggari just rode a "boob" race, of which all jockeys are guilty at times, but Willamn's piloting wasn't exactly boobish. McTaggart found more "pockcts" with Corn Tausel than one would think possible in a five horse field. In the stretch right down to within an eighth of a mile of the finish he was so closely bemmed in that he would have been compelled to hurdin Manister Tol to get to the front. Jockey Keough, on the latter, didn't leave any avenue of escape open for Johnny and his mount. When Johnny tried to squeeze himself through on the rail Keough just cased over enough to shut him off.

McAtes on Queen of the Water wasn't helping Johnny out of his difficulties, either. He just lay alongside him, seemingly purposely, at Manister Toi's tail.
